Your privacy is our priority. This document explains how we handle your data and what technologies we use.

1. No collection of analytics and marketing data

Our website has been designed not to collect, track, or profile your activity.

- We do not use tracking tools such as Google Analytics or Facebook Pixel.
- We do not create user profiles.
- We do not share your data with third parties for advertising purposes.

2. Cookies

The website uses only essential functional cookies. These are required for the proper technical functioning of the site (e.g., maintaining sessions, remembering language preferences, or shopping cart contents).

- These cookies are not used to identify you.
- You can block cookies at any time in your browser settings, but this may affect the proper display of the website.

3. Contact and service execution

The only personal data we process is the data you voluntarily provide for the purpose of completing services or contacting us (e.g., name, surname, email address, phone number).

- Purpose of processing: This data is used solely to handle your inquiry or request.
- Data retention: Your data is stored only for the time necessary to complete communication or fulfill legal obligations (e.g., accounting, if a transaction occurred).
- Security: We do not use your contact data to send newsletters or marketing materials without your explicit, separate consent.

4. Your rights

In accordance with GDPR, you have the right to:

1. Access your data.
2. Rectify or delete it (“right to be forgotten”).
3. Restrict its processing.
4. Lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority (President of the Personal Data Protection Office).

5. Contact with the Administrator

If you have any questions regarding data protection, you can contact us at: iodo@it-duch.pl or by phone: +48 663 725 342.
